

VISUAL ARTS:

Full Remote & Hybrid Learning (9 themed pages)

LESON LINK: Winter Themed Activities

Select TWO out of the following activities on the next pages to complete for the week:

- Water color landscape painting using tape and salt.
 - Continue on with a NEW paper mache sculpture of your choice.
 - Create a winter "how to draw activity". No colors? Practice your shading on your drawing. Have paint? Go for it.
-

Activity Option #1 Winter Birch Trees

Just add strips of masking tape and then dark blue watercolor on thick paper with some salt sprinkled over it. After it dries you take off the tape, paint on the moon with white paint and use watered down blue or a color selection of your choice of watercolor to put shadows and lines on the trees.

How To Paint Snowman Starry Night

Activity Option #2

Winter Wonderland Paper Mache Sculptures

Make a series of paper-mache winter woodland creatures or another sculpture of your choice.

- Click above link for recipe and instruction guidelines on build. options

ACTIVITY OPTION 3a-e. How to Draw Step by Steps)

(a) CITY WINTER LANDSCAPE:

This winter drawing OR painting has some added depth in the sky because the swirl lines were traced

Supplies: permanenet marker, watercolor, paint

1. Make guide lines. Draw snow base line.

2. Draw three large buildings with snow tops.

3. Add smaller buildings in between.

4. Draw windows in all the buildings.

5. Draw three large swirls in the sky.

6. Fill the sky with more swirl lines.

7. Trace lines with marker and paint buildings.

8. Paint sky blue. Trace swirl lines with more blue. When dry, sprinkle sky with white tempera for

(c.) WINTER LANDSCAPE

Winter landscape drawing projects needn't be complicated and involve lots of fancy supplies. This one is pretty simple, focuses on silhouettes of trees on a moon lite night, and can be made with just a couple of crayons and a black marker.

This drawing would also make an excellent example of one of the Principles of Design — Contrast. The black trees that cast a shadow against the white snow, are so much more striking than say brown trees against green grass. It's a great way for students to learn how much impact contrast can have in their work.

Draw a Winter Landscape

1. Draw the snow banks.

2. Space out 3 tree trunks.

3. Add branches to the left tree.

4. Add branches to the middle tree.

5. Add branches to the right tree.

6. Draw a moon.

7. Draw shadows that point to the moon.

8. Color the trees black and shadows gray.

9. Color the sky, leaving spots for snow.

(d.) DRAW A BEAR WITH A SCARF: Just because it's easy and adds some personality to a cute winter portrait. Change it up and get creative. Add color of you can.

Draw a Bear with a Scarf

1. Draw an upside down U.

2. Add the scarf.

3. Draw the shoulders.

4. Add the ears and nose.

5. Draw the eyes and muzzle.

6. Finish the eyes, mouth, cheeks.

7. Add the scarf ends.

8. Decorate scarf with patterns.

9. Trace with a marker and color.

(e) EASY SNOWMAN:

A different point of view than a regular snowman drawing.

Snowman drawings don't have to always be saved as simple beginner projects. You know, the ones that start with three circles, are centered on the middle of the page, and have the usual arms, hat and face.

Who says you can't get closer to them? Like drawing just a close up of the head and face? And maybe not centered, but tilted a bit to give him or her more life?

This easy snowman tutorial does just that, and adds a little extra fun at the end with a cute bird too. It only takes a few changes to make a drawing that looks like it has much more of a story to it.

Draw an Easy Snowman

1. Start the angled hat as shown.

2. Finish with a brim.

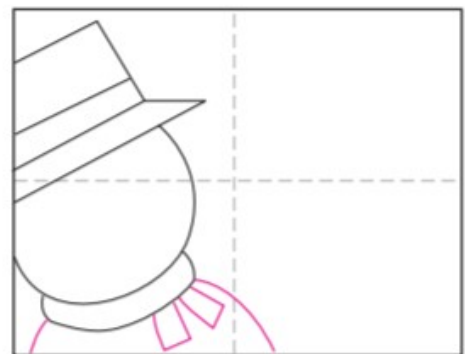

3. Add a band to the hat.

4. Draw the circle head below the hat.

5. Add the band of the scarf.

6. Add the scarf ends and shoulders.

7. Draw the eyes, nose and mouth.

8. Finish with arm and bird.

9. Trace with a marker and color.